

Healing Hearts — Support for parents and families

The grief and pain that comes from losing a baby at any stage is so very personal, yet other parents are experiencing this pain too. If you have experienced the loss of a baby through miscarriage, a stillbirth or death after birth, this supportive group may help you in the healing process.

Parkview Chaplaincy has an experienced facilitator who can help you as you go through the grieving process. Sharing with other parents and families can help you make sense of this unbearable loss and hopefully lead you toward peace and healing.
